College of Visual and Performing Arts 2018-19
UNDERGRADUATE STUDENT RESEARCH GRANT APPLICATION

WHO

Undergraduate Students in the College of Visual and Performing Arts along with a faculty advisor.

WHAT

The College of Visual and Performing Arts will be offering Student Research Grants for the 2018-19 academic year to provide funding for the purpose of encouraging undergraduate students to explore practical or scholarly investigation in a project or subject of interest relevant to the student's major that results in a product, performance, publication, final presentation/report. The duration of the project could be a semester, but not to exceed one academic year.

Interested students should engage a faculty mentor and submit a proposal of their intended project or research subject to the College of Visual and Performing Arts. Proposals may be disciplinary, but interdisciplinary projects are encouraged, as are entrepreneurial endeavors and community/civic engagement projects which show significant/specific scholarly and creative components. We encourage projects that display a high degree of originality and risk-taking.
