

Tech Level I & Information Seeking Skills Tests

*Freshmen must pass these tests as part of

Both the Tech Level I Test and the ISST may be taken as many times as needed for successful completion.

Tech Level I Test evaluates your basic computer literacy:

(Each of the 3 sections of Tech Level I may be taken separately)

- word processing skills
- presentation software skills
- excel spreadsheet skills

The Tech I Tests are administered on a drop-in basis during scheduled hours throughout the academic year in Ashby Hall Computer Lab.

Tutorials are available at: <http://www.jmu.edu/gened/tutorial.html>

Hands-on tutorials will be available during the academic year.

The deadline for successful completion of Tech I is November 14, 2008.

Information Seeking Skills Test (ISST) evaluates your ability to locate and evaluate information sources as part of academic research.

Self-instruction modules, entitled Go for the Gold, are available at this JMU website: <http://www.lib.jmu.edu>

The deadline for successful completion of the ISST is April 17, 2009.
