Ho ho ho!

Christmas is coming and this year I need your help. I have to go to so many houses on Christmas Eve and my elves are working really late into the night to get all the toys ready.

We are looking for a good kid like you to help us!

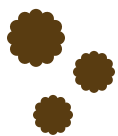

I've given you a box and need you to fill it with toys you don't play with anymore.

Think of all the kids who do not have toys.

Your toys could really make a difference! The elves will come and pick up the box and I'll make sure it goes to the right person.

See you soon!

Santa
