

hunger knows no boundaries~hunger knows no boundaries~hunger knows no boundaries~hunger knows no boundaries

how hunger can be solved

WORLD DEBT RELIEF

Taken together, 52 of the world's poorest countries (of which 37 are in Africa) carry a huge debt burden, including $201 billion by African nations alone. The repayments for this huge amount of money take up a very large portion of each country's income to, leaving them with little left to help themselves and solve their hunger problems.

Cancelling world debt would provide these countries with the ability to help themselves, such as being able to develop their economy, develop and import technologies to increase output from arable land or help fund imports of food from abroad.

You can help these poorer countries by supporting and helping those groups and individuals who are trying to convince their governments to cancel world debt. Your support could help give a debt free start to 1 billion people, and help to solve the world's hunger problem.

excerpted from <http://library.thinkquest.org/C002291/high/future/index.htm>

Sponsored by oIP
Office of International Programs

hunger knows no boundaries~hunger knows no boundaries~hunger knows no boundaries~hunger knows no boundaries