Thursday, April 18, 2013

7:00-9:00pm, Keynote Lecture, Warren Hall, Transitions

“Santa Muerte: The Mushrooiming New Cult of Saint Death”
Dr. Andrew Chesnut, Professor of Religious Studies
Virginia Commonwealth University

Join us after the talk for a reception and musical performances:
“Mexican Folk Roots Music and Beyond” by musical group Lua and a dance performance by JMU’s Latino Student Alliance

Friday, April 19, 2013

Join us for a lecture, career outreach session and informal talk with
Dr. Sarah Martinez, Justice Officer from the State Department

11:00am-12:00pm, Burruss Hall, Room 0031

“US-Haitian Relations In a Time of Recovery: A View From the State Department”

1:30-2:30pm, Miller Hall, Room 1101

“Career Paths in US Government”
Dr. Martinez will be available for a question and answer session with students about the wheres, whens, whys, and hows of working for the US Government

Reception to follow

Event Sponsors
Latin American and Caribbean Studies; Cross Disciplinary Studies and Planning; College of Arts and Letters; Visiting Scholars; Office of International Programs; The Mahatma Gandhi Center for Global Nonviolence; University Studies; Foreign Language, Literatures and Cultures; English; Political Science;
History; Interdisciplinary Liberal Studies; and Sociology and Anthropology