Dear Parents, Alumni and Friends of JMU,

As another academic year begins, the staff of The Bluestone is again preparing to provide the best possible historical record of the year at James Madison University. We are committed to capturing and preserving the enthusiasm, diversity and uniqueness of the 2009-2010 student body and academic community.

Over the past few years, The Bluestone has been recognized for its outstanding achievements by many of the country's top journalism associations. The 2005 edition was awarded the Associated Collegiate Press' highest honor, the Pacemaker. The 2006 edition received the Silver Crown Award from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association for outstanding achievements in writing, editing, design and production. The Bluestone was one of eight collegiate yearbooks out of 500 books judged nationwide that received either of the two prestigious Crown Awards. The Bluestone staff was also acknowledged with four Gold Circle awards for individual portions of the yearbook.

In order to continue to strive for this level of excellence, we rely on financial support from you, members of the JMU community. Without your support and contributions, our expansion, changes and improvements would not be possible. To show our appreciation and gratitude, the names of those who contribute $10 or more will be included in a special section of the yearbook dedicated to our patrons. Those contributing $50 or more will be listed as Diamond Patrons, and those giving $100 or more will be listed as Madison Patrons. In addition, those contributing $75 or more will receive a copy of The Bluestone's 2009-2010 edition.

If you have any questions at all, please give us a call at (540) 568-6541 or e-mail us at jmu.bluestone@gmail.com. Thank you very much for your support of The Bluestone and of James Madison University.

Sincerely,

Parvina Mamatoca
Editor in Chief
