GRPH 202. Design Methodology (0, 9), 3 credits. Offered fall and spring.
Exploration of strategies for conceptualizing, analyzing and solving design problems. Emphasis is placed on graphic presentation of ideas and the creative process. Prerequisite: ART 102. Formerly GRPH 244.

GRPH 206. Introduction to Typography (0, 9), 3 credits. Offered fall.
An introduction to the study of letter forms for their aesthetic and communicative value. Typographic fundamentals of alphabet history, type classification, printing technology effects, font design, visual space, hierarchy, and grid systems will be explored. Prerequisite: GRPH 200. Formerly GRPH 246.

GRPH 208. Portfolio Review. 0 credit. Offered fall and spring.
Portfolio review required to enroll in graphic design courses at upper division standing. May be repeated once for pass/fail standing. Prerequisites: GRPH 200 and GRPH 202. Prerequisite or corequisite: GRPH 206. Formerly GRPH 250.

GRPH 300. Illustration (0, 9), 3 credits. Offering varies.
Through demonstrations, theory and practical application, students are introduced to numerous media and illustrative techniques. Encouraged experimentation is tempered by an understanding of problem solving and conceptualization. Prerequisite: GRPH 208. Formerly GRPH 349.

GRPH 304. Package Design (0, 9), 3 credits. Offering varies.
Through theoretical foundations and practical application, students learn to design in three-dimensions. Focus will be placed on aesthetics, as well as the form and function of a product's housing. Prerequisite: GRPH 208. Formerly GRPH 347.

GRPH 306. Intermediate Typography (0, 9), 3 credits. Offered fall and spring.
An intermediate study of typography for its aesthetic and communicative value. Context effects on legibility and readability, type as image, type in sequence, and typographic systems will be explored. Prerequisite: GRPH 208. Formerly GRPH 346.

GRPH 312. Web Design. 3 credits. Offered fall and spring.
Introduction to Web design through theory and practical application. Assignments will focus on the unique form, content and structures associated with designing for the World Wide Web. Special emphasis on the creative process and the graphic presentation of ideas. Prerequisites: GRPH majors: GRPH 208; SMAD majors: SMAD 202. Formerly GRPH 339.

GRPH 340. Poster Design (0, 9), 3 credits. Offering varies.
Through theory and practical application, students learn to design for the poster realm. Focus will be placed on aesthetics, as well as form and function. Encouraged experimentation is tempered by an understanding of problem solving and conceptualization. Prerequisite: GRPH 208.

Independent activity at the intermediate level, such as research or studio practice, under faculty supervision. Projected studies in any area of the school's offering must be arranged with the instructors who will direct them. Offered only with the consent of the director. Prerequisite: GRPH 208.

GRPH 392. Topics in Graphic Design. 3 credits. Offering varies.
Study of selected topics in art, art education, art history, graphic design, interior design or industrial design at the intermediate level. May be repeated when course content changes. See e-campus for current topics. Prerequisite: GRPH 208. Formerly GRPH 389.

GRPH 406. Advanced Typography (0, 9), 3 credits. Offered fall and spring.
An advanced study of typography for its aesthetic and communicative value. Topics of research, narrative, information design, format organization, and production techniques will be explored. Solutions reflect advanced text and image integration knowledge through complex and variable structure development. Prerequisite: GRPH 306. Formerly GRPH 446.

GRPH 408. Brand Identity. 3 credits. Offered fall and spring.
Exploration of visual identities utilizing a holistic, systems approach to design. Introduces business strategies and design techniques associated with brand development. Emphasis is placed on methods of thinking, research and implementation. Prerequisite or corequisite: GRPH 406. Formerly GRPH 447.

GRPH 410. Graphic Design Portfolio. 3 credits. Offered fall and spring.
An examination of the business of graphic design, employment strategies and freelance opportunities. Focus is placed on solidification of the portfolio for employment and/or graduate school. This course is strongly recommended for the last semester prior to graduation. Prerequisite: GRPH 406. Corequisite: GRPH 408. Formerly GRPH 498.

GRPH 490. Independent Studies in Graphic Design. 1-3 credits, repeatable. Offered fall and spring.
Independent activity, such as research or studio practice, under faculty supervision. Projected studies in any area of the school's offering must be arranged with the instructors who will direct them. Offered only with consent of the director. Prerequisite: GRPH 208.

GRPH 491. Studio Assistant. 1-3 credits, repeatable. Offered fall and spring.
An on-campus program monitored on an individual basis designed to provide practical studio experience in the visual arts. Students will learn safe studio practices and management skills, including material use, inventory control, and the proper operation of equipment found within various individual classroom studios. Prerequisites: Permission of the instructor.

GRPH 492. Topics in Graphic Design. 3 credits. Offered fall and spring.
Study of selected topics in graphic design at the advanced level. May be repeated when course content changes. See e-campus for current topics.

GRPH 496. Internship in Graphic Design. 1-8 credits. Offered fall and spring.
An off-campus program prepared and monitored on an individual basis. Internships are designed to provide practical experience in the arts. Prerequisites: Permission of the instructor and GRPH 208. ARTH 494 if in museums and galleries.

GRPH 498. Honors (1, 3, 2). 6 credits total for three semesters. Offered fall and spring. Prerequisite: GRPH 208.

Health

Department of Health Sciences

GHTH 100. Personal Wellness. 3 credits. Offered fall, spring and summer.
Emphasizes lifestyle behaviors contributing to health promotion and disease prevention. General areas affecting health status are identified. Suggestions are made as to how health-related behaviors, self-care and individual decisions contribute to health and influence dimensions of wellness.

GHTH 151. Foundations of the Health Sciences. 3 credits. Offered fall and spring.
Review of the basic competencies and foundations of the health sciences including academic planning, professionalism, writing and presentation skills, information literacy, foundational principles, and the roles and responsibilities of selected health science fields. This is intended to be the first course that a student takes in the health sciences major.

GHTH 204. Emergency Health Care (2, 2). 3 credits. Offered fall and spring.
A survey of various dimensions of the legal aspects of emergency care, cardiopulmonary resuscitation, hemorrhage control, wounds, shock, heat injuries and other health emergencies. Selected American Red Cross and American Heart Association certifications available. The American Red Cross registration fees apply.

GHTH 206. Advanced Athletic Training. 3 credits. Offered fall and spring.
This course involves advanced study of injuries associated with physically active individuals including injury mechanisms, signs and symptoms, and treatments. Other topics include relationship athletes build with active individuals including injury mechanisms, signs and symptoms, and treatments. Other topics include relationships athletes build with active individuals including injury mechanisms, signs and symptoms, and treatments. Other topics include relationships athletes build with athletic trainers build with other health care professionals; environmental issues related to physical activity; and special needs of various populations. Prerequisites: BIO 290 and HTH 205. Formerly HTH 303.

GHTH 230. Community Health. 3 credits. Offered fall and spring.
An introduction to community health including its foundations, the tools of community health such as epidemiology, community organization, disease control, and health promotion. The course focuses on the populations, settings, and special issues of community health. Prerequisite: GHTH 100.

GHTH 252. Sexually Related Diseases. 1 credit.
Sexually transmitted diseases and other sexual systems problems (breast and testicular cancer), nonvenereal diseases, chromosomal anomalies, sexual disorders of the genitalia and urinary system problems.

GHTH 270. Personal Health Promotion. 3 credits.
A survey of principles for the promotion of optimum individual, family and community health through intelligent self-direction of health behavior. Topics include the physical, mental and social dimension of health economics, disease control, human sexuality, chemical abuse, injury control, and nutrition.
HTH 278. Alcohol: Use and Abuse. 1 credit. Survey of the drug alcohol. Topics include pharmacological effects, patterns of use, potential for abuse, treatment programs and prevention of alcohol abuse and alcoholism.

HTH 300. Medical Terminology. 3 credits. Offered fall and spring. Study of terms that relate to body systems, anatomical structures, medical processes and procedures, and a variety of diseases disorders that afflict human organisms.

HTH 308. Therapeutic Assessment. 3 credits. Offered spring. The purpose of this course is to present an overview of established and current knowledge in the major content areas of physiology by examining the impact of work and the working environment on human body systems as they relate to health and wellness. Prerequisite: BIO 290.

HTH/KIN 312. The Profession of Teaching Health & Physical Education. 2 credits. Offered fall and spring. Introductory study of the roles of the teacher and the learner and the pedagogical content knowledge of health and physical education. An in-depth examination of the unique position and qualifications of the specialist in physical education and health. Systematic observations will occur. Prerequisite: Admission to teacher education.

HTH/HHS/NSG/SOWK 314. Rural Health: An Interdisciplinary Approach. 3 credits. Offered May. Students study, observe and participate in interdisciplinary assessment, planning and delivery of community-based primary health care in partnership with residents and agencies of a host rural county. Learning activities will emphasize rural culture, rural health care and interdisciplinary practice.

HTH 320. Statistical Methods for Health Science Research. 3 credits. Offered fall and spring. This course reviews statistical concepts and techniques with special reference to their relation to health science applications and issues. It also reinforces the logical processes associated with statistical decision making, again with particular reference to health and medical research methods. Prerequisites: MATH 220 and HTH 354.

HTH 330. Introduction to Human Disease. 3 credits. Offered fall and spring. An overview of the incidence, prevalence, causation, and prevention of the major chronic and infectious diseases which are currently of concern in the twenty-first century. Major signs and symptoms of the diseases as well as treatment will be reviewed. The course will also cover the body's defense system and the principles of disease occurrence. Prerequisite: HTH 230.

HTH 352. Environmental Health. 3 credits. Offered fall and spring. An investigation of environmental factors and their effects on the health of the individual, community and society. Prerequisite: HTH 230.

HTH 354. U.S. Health Care System. 3 credits. Offered fall and spring. This course examines the structure and organization of the health care delivery system in the United States. The components, functions, financing and resources of this system are described.

HTH 355. HIV/AIDS: A Global Perspective. 1 credit. Offered fall and spring. Discussion includes theories of origins, statistics and characteristics of the causative pathogen, incubation, illness patterns, transmission, prevention and treatment of AIDS and other STDs. AIDS and other STDs in relation to prisons, children, schools, global concerns, health care systems and legal factors will be considered.

HTH 357. Coping with Stress. 1 credit. Offered fall. Identifying causes and personal symptoms associated with stress and individual methods of handling stress.

HTH 368. International Health and Nutrition Studies. 3 credits. This course involves participation with an interdisciplinary team which will travel outside of the United States to observe and experience the health care challenges in a developing nation.

HTH 370. Child and Adolescent Health. 3 credits. Offered fall and spring. This course will discuss the CDC priority health risk categories and the Healthy People 2010 Objectives for the Nation as they relate to child and adolescent health. In addition, the CDC model for Coordinated School Health Programs will be explored to determine specific strategies for health improvement. Prerequisite: HTH 230; restricted to PHETE or health sciences majors.

HTH 371. Behavior and Health of Children and Adolescents. 3 credits. Offered spring. This course will review the current health status and health risk behaviors of children and adolescents. It will focus on epidemiological trends and behavioral and social etiological factors. In addition, this course will include an overview of the theoretical approaches to children and adolescent health behavior. Application of theory will be made to the development of strategies for health promotion and interventions to reduce specific health problems for children and adolescents that would be appropriate for teachers and schools. Prerequisite: Admission to the PHETE program.

HTH 372. Human Sexuality. 3 credits. Offered fall and spring. An in-depth study of sexuality across the lifespan. Emphasis is placed on the development of sexuality with attention given to the psychological, physiological, ethical and socio-cultural implications. Prerequisite: HTH 230.

HTH 375. Pregnancy Control and Abortion. 1 credit. An in-depth study of four areas concerning the following sexual aspects of living: contraception, abortion, sterilization and fertility-enhancing methods. The biochemical, physiological, legal, cultural and ethical aspects are considered.

HTH 378. The Use and Effects of Drugs. 3 credits. Offered fall and spring. A study of the use and pharmacological properties of popular legal and illegal drugs and their effects on the health of individuals and society. Prerequisite: HTH 230.

HTH 389. Practicum in Health Education. 1-3 credits. Offered fall and spring. Selected practicum experiences which provide students with supervised practicum experiences.

HTH 390. Selected Topics in Health Science. 1-3 credits. Offered fall and spring. Study of selected topics in health science. Consult e-campus for specific topics. May be repeated for credit when course content changes.

HTH 402. Topics in Health Education I. 3 credits. Offered every other spring. An overview of selected topics required for students preparing to teach health in public schools. Selected topics will include addictions, alcohol, tobacco, drug use and abuse, safety, nutrition and weight management in children, immunity, and prevention and control of infectious and chronic diseases. Special emphasis will be on issues relevant to teaching these topics in schools. Prerequisite: Admission to the PHETE program.

HTH 403. Topics in Health Education II. 3 credits. Offered every other spring. An overview of selected topics required for students preparing to teach health in public schools. Selected topics include consumer health, environmental health, mental-emotional health, personal health, aging, and death and dying. Special emphasis will be on issues relevant to teaching these topics in schools. Prerequisite: Admission to the PHETE program.

HTH 407. Health Education Facilitation/Synthesis. 2 credits. Offered fall and spring. Students apply health knowledge by identifying needs, designing and facilitating programs in various settings on pertinent topics. These topics include sexual health, STD/HIV prevention, eating disorders, stress management, sexual assault and alcohol/drug abuse. Upon completion of all course requirements, students will be credentialed as a Certified Peer Educator (CPE). Prerequisite: Permission of instructor.

HTH 408. Health Research Methods. 3 credits. Offered fall and spring. This course will present an overview of research methods within public health, emphasizing the steps involved in the research process. Methodological issues covered will include the ethics of health studies research, qualitative and quantitative research designs, operationalization of concepts, measurement of variables, and techniques of sampling, data collection and analysis. Prerequisites: MATH 220, HTH 230 and senior practicum experiences.

HTH 409. Therapeutic Interaction. 3 credits. Offered summer. This course focuses on the fundamental aspects of the therapeutic process, group dynamics and understanding professional relationships in occupational therapy practice. Students will investigate concepts, attitudes and behavioral strategies that will support effective professional communication. They will also investigate inter- and intra- personal strategies that facilitate collaborative relationships as an occupational therapist in health or human service provision. Prerequisite: Admission into the occupational studies concentration and successful completion of all previous concentration course work.

HTH 423. Contemporary Health Issues. 3 credits. Offered fall and spring. This course will provide an overview of the leading health indicators and contemporary health issues based upon the Healthy People 2010 and 2020 initiatives from the US Department of Health and Human Services. Topics of discussion include current health, health care, and ethical issues such as community, consumer, and environmental health issues; focusing on the interaction between psychological, sociological, political, and environmental factors. Prerequisite: HTH 230.
HTH 424. Occupational Development Through the Lifespan. 3 credits. Offered fall. The fundamental aspect of occupational development that occurs throughout life is examined. Interactions between the individual and the environment across the several domains of occupation are explored. Acquisition of values, roles, habits, temporal adaptation and interests during each developmental stage are reviewed. Prerequisite: Admissions to occupational studies concentration and successful completion of all previous concentration course work.

HTH 431. Human Occupation and the Foundations of the Profession. 3 credits. Offered fall.

The relationship between human behavior and occupation is examined. Issues important to occupational engagement are explored and linked to occupational science and the occupational therapy profession. Prerequisite: Admission to the occupational studies concentration and successful completion of all previous concentration course work.

HTH 435. Level I Fieldwork One. 1 credit. Offered spring.
The course offers an opportunity to develop clinical skills in health and human service programs serving pediatric and adolescent clients. This experience will link knowledge and skills developed in didactic course work with a clinical environment. Prerequisite: Admission to occupational studies concentration and successful completion of all previous concentration course work.

HTH 441/KIN 407. Rehabilitative Biomechanics. 3 credits. Offered fall and spring.
This course is designed to introduce the student to a variety of biomechanical concepts and applications as related to the health professions. Specific attention will be given to the biomechanical aspects of the musculoskeletal system. Prerequisite: BIO 290.

HTH 442. Chronic Diseases. 3 credits. Offered fall.
This course examines the pathophysiological effects of chronic diseases on health and well being. Discussions include various strategies which improve the functional status and health of individuals at risk. Prerequisite: HTH 308 or KIN 302 and KIN 302L.

HTH 445. The Occupational Therapy Process. 3 credits. Offered summer.
The occupational therapy process is examined from assessing an occupational profile to focusing on engagement in occupation to achieve desired outcomes. Methods of assessment are studied as a defining step in the therapeutic process. Goal development, intervention strategies and documentation are also addressed. Prerequisite: Admission to occupational studies concentration and successful completion of all previous concentration course work.

HTH 450. Epidemiology. 3 credits. Offered fall and spring.
A study of the causation and prevention of the major diseases that affect the quality of an individual’s life. Practical skills utilized by practicing epidemiologists are emphasized. Prerequisites: HTH 230 and senior health sciences major or permission of instructor.

HTH 451. Health Behavior Change. 3 credits. Offered fall and spring.
Factors which influence health behavior and characteristics of these individuals and groups. Analysis of previous programs designed to change these behaviors and the formulation of new health modification programs included. Prerequisites: HTH 230 and upper division senior health sciences major or permission of instructor.

HTH 453. Public Health Education Methods. 3 credits. Offered spring.
This course is designed for public health education students to develop competencies necessary for working in community and public health settings. Presentation skills, developing print, computer and Internet materials, facilitating groups and coalitions, and advocacy are some of the topics covered. Prerequisites: HTH 230, HTH 451 and senior public health education concentration students or permission of instructor.

HTH 458. Health Program Planning and Evaluation. 3 credits. Offered fall and spring.
This lecture and laboratory course introduces students to principles and techniques employed to plan, implement and evaluate health promotion programs. Students will conduct a campus or community event and compile a formal report. Prerequisites: HTH 230, HSA 358 or HTH 451 and senior health sciences major or permission of instructor.

HTH 460. Sensorimotor Foundations of Occupation. 3 credits. Offered spring.
The importance of sensory processing and motor response and the impact on behavior, movement and occupational engagement are examined. Normal and abnormal sensorimotor function is presented with specific emphasis on how dysfunction impacts upon performance in the domains of occupation. Prerequisite: Admission to the occupational studies concentration and successful completion of all previous concentration course work.

HTH 461. Therapeutic Media in Occupational Therapy. 2 credits. Offered fall.
This course examines the use of various forms of media used in occupational therapy practice. An understanding of the importance of media and its impact on the history and philosophical base of the profession will be addressed. The ability to grade and analyze activities relative to areas of occupation, performance skills, performance pattern, activity demands, context(s) and client factors in presented. A focus on developing the ability to adapt tasks for individuals who require a compensatory approach will be examined. Prerequisite: Admission to the occupational studies concentration and successful completion of all previous concentration course work.

HTH 470. Instructional Methods in Health Education. 4 credits. Offered spring. The preparation and application of methods for teaching health in the schools. Students will develop skills in planning, instructional methods and classroom management. Micro-teaching experiences and a practicum in the schools are incorporated into this course to provide for the application and practice of material and skills learned. Prerequisite: Admission to teacher education.

HTH 471. Health Aspects of Gerontology. 3 credits. Offered fall and spring.
Promotion of health in the aged; physiological aspects of the aging process; community, state and federal health programs, and services for the aged.

HTH 472. Family Life Education for Teachers. 2 credits.
This course will present an overview of issues affecting the sexual health of children and youth. A variety of family life education curricula will be discussed, however, the approved Virginia Department of Education curriculum will be examined and students will be trained in implementing and evaluating its various modules.

HTH 478. Occupational Dysfunction-Cause & Impact. 3 credits. Offered spring.
Various illnesses, injuries and circumstances that can impede areas of occupation and performance skills are examined. Prerequisites: HTH 450 and senior health sciences major or permission of instructor.

HTH 480. Health Assessment Techniques. 3 credits. Offered fall.
Examination of health risk appraisals and metabolic assessments used to implement strategies for behavioral change and improved overall wellness. Other topics include programming and group dynamics used to promote healthy lifestyle behaviors.

HTH 482. Advanced Health Assessment Techniques. 3 credits. Offered spring.
Skill acquisition of current health assessment techniques. These assessments are used to determine risk factors which play a role in heart disease and selected chronic diseases and to evaluate current health status. Prerequisite: HTH 480.

HTH 485. Psychosocial Perspectives in Occupational Therapy Practice. 3 credits. Offered spring.
This course will provide an overview of psychosocial conditions that impact client function in areas of occupation, performance skills and performance patterns. Occupational therapy assessment and intervention from an individual and group treatment standpoint will be examined as it contributes to the interdisciplinary process. A historical overview of occupational therapy in behavioral health service provision will be covered that will review traditional and contemporary treatment and provider settings. Prerequisite: Admission to the Occupational Studies concentration and successful completion of all previous concentration course work, or permission of the program director.

HTH 488 Substance Abuse Prevention Basics. 1 credit. Offered spring.
This course focuses on basic, cutting-edge substance abuse prevention theory, research and practice. It is designed for the substance abuse intervention minor who have completed the course content and are preparing for entry-level practitioner positions in health education and/or substance abuse prevention/intervention. Instruction will bridge theory to practice by incorporating practicing professionals.

HTH 490. Special Studies in Health Education. 1-3 credits each semester. Offered fall and spring.
Designed to give the superior student in health education an opportunity to complete independent study and/or research under faculty supervision. Prerequisite: Permission of the department head.

HTH 491. Occupational Therapy Tutorial I. 1 credit. Offered spring.
Tutorial I is a small group case-based discussion seminar, facilitated by a clinical tutor who is an occupational therapist. Students research and discuss clinical cases related to content that is integrated from all courses that comprise the occupational studies concentration. Prerequisite: Admission to the occupational studies concentration and successful completion of all previous concentration course work.
Health and Human Services

Institute for Innovation in Health and Human Services

HHS 201. Health Professionals in Diverse Communities. 1 credit. Offered fall. An introduction to skills in professionalism and interprofessional collaboration in addressing local and global health challenges. First year pre-professional health students examine social determinants of health and diverse communities, and learn skills in reflection as they interact with health professionals and faculty. Prerequisites: Membership in the Huber Learning Community.

HHS 202. Health Care Service in Diverse Communities. 2 credits. Offered spring. HHS 202 is the second in a two-course sequence for first year pre-professional health students in the Huber Learning Community. Students examine interprofessional perspectives on complex global health issues and apply skills in professionalism, integration, collaboration, and reflection to community-based, experiential service learning. Prerequisites: HHS 201 and Membership in the Huber Learning Community.

HHS 220. Adult Health and Development Program. 3 credits. Offered fall and spring. In this academic course and outreach program to adults age 55+ in the surrounding community, JMU students are trained to work 1:1 with the older adults, to apply aging and intergenerational theory, and to critically analyze outcomes from their interactions.

HHS/HTH/NSG/SOWK 314. Rural Health: An Interdisciplinary Approach. 3 credits. Offered May. Students study, observe, and participate in interdisciplinary assessment, planning, and delivery of community-based primary health care in partnership with residents and agencies of a host rural county. Learning activities will emphasize rural culture, rural health care and interdisciplinary practice.

HHS 315. Risk Management in the Health Care System. 2 credits. This course explores current factors having impact on the risk management of the American healthcare system. It explores the many dimensions of risk management and leadership roles, and the dissemination and utilization of risk research in hospitals.

HHS 316. Problems in Health Care Law. 3 credits. This class is organized to highlight the general principles of health care law and examines both the underlying conflicts between public policies and the legal solutions to these problems. It addresses the major organizational, physical and staffing resources that are necessary to deliver quality healthcare in today's world. This course also covers relationships with patients, handling of medical information, financing of health care services, liability issues, determination of death and the handling of dead bodies.

HHS 320. Adult Health and Development Program—Leadership. 3 credits. Offered fall and spring. Both an academic course and an outreach program to adults age 55+ in the surrounding community, this course offers JMU students who have previously participated in the program the opportunity to become Senior Staff who provide program leadership, oversight, and management to the program. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor and completion of one semester of HUSD.

HHS 391. Introduction to Informatics for Health Care Professionals. 1 credit. A multidisciplinary introduction to informatics in health care focusing on technology, data, information and knowledge and their applications in health care. Emerging trends and issues are examined.

HHS 415. Ethical Decision-Making in Healthcare: An Interprofessional Approach. 1 credit. Offered fall and spring. Health care ethics is a shared, relevant concern among health and human service disciplines and is an ideal vehicle for students from different fields to learn about one another’s disciplines and to participate in inter-professional team analysis, discussion, and problem solving. We have designed an integrated cross-disciplinary learning experience for students interested in the complex, real-world dilemmas encountered in practice. The readings and activities will emphasize ethical, legal, moral, and spiritual issues and principles for practice within the context of communicating in inter-professional teams.

HHS 440. International Health and Human Services in Malta. 4 credits. Offered May. This May session, study abroad course examines health issues in Malta and provides a team oriented project experience. Project participation, tours and arranged meetings with local experts are used to illustrate health related problems that apply globally and which are compared and contrasted with those in the United States.

HHS/NSG 480. Healthcare Informatics. 2 credits. This course focuses on the nature and functions of present and future application of health care informatics. Emphasis is on preparing current and future health care professionals to plan, design, collaborate with other health care disciplines, and utilize healthcare informatics for effective health care delivery, health organizational management and improved client outcomes. Prerequisite: Minimum of sophomore standing.

HHS 490. Special Topics in Health and Human Services. 0-4 credits. Offered fall and spring. This course involves topics of special interest in the area of health and human services but is open to all students. The focus of specific courses is identified for specific offerings. Courses are offered based on faculty and student interests.

Health Services Administration

Department of Health Sciences

HSA 358. Health Administration. 3 credits. Offered fall. This course provides an introduction to management functions, tasks and roles as they are carried out in health services organizations. Discussion of emerging issues affecting the management of health services organizations is provided. This course uses the case method of analysis to develop critical thinking skills. Prerequisite: HTH 354 or permission of the instructor.

HSA 360. Health Care Marketing. 3 credits. Offered spring. This course introduces the role, functions and tasks of health care marketing. Attention is devoted to understanding basic marketing principles; using oral, written and visual electronic communications media; and developing marketing plans for health care organizations.

HSA 363. Health Economics. 3 credits. Offered fall. IECE 320. Development and Assessment of Infants. 3 credits.
This course provides students with an understanding of the development of infants and toddlers with and without exceptionalities. Students will acquire knowledge and skills in authentic assessment to be used in decision making and service planning. Prerequisites: IECE 300 and IECE 301. Corequisites: IECE 321 and IECE 322.

IECE 321. Practicum Supporting the Development of Infants and Toddlers. 2 credits.
This practicum supports IECE 320 and 322 by requiring students to engage in supervised and planned naturalistic interactions with infants and toddlers, who are typically developing or have developmental delays or disabilities, and their families. Students will have the opportunity to observe, assess, and support infants and toddlers’ development while collaborating with families. Prerequisites: IECE 300 and IECE 301. Corequisites: IECE 320 and IECE 322.

IECE 322. Supporting the Development of Infants and Toddlers. 3 credits.
This course explores, analyzes and evaluates curriculum and methodology related to designing and managing nurturing, supportive and enriching learning environments for infants and toddlers. Focus is on naturalistic teaching methods, curriculum planning, implementation strategies, environmental arrangements and accommodation for all infants and toddlers, in collaboration with the primary caregiver. Students will learn to use technology to support children’s learning. Prerequisites: IECE 300 and IECE 301. Corequisites: IECE 320 and IECE 321.

IECE 420. Development of the Young Child. 3 credits.
This course provides students with an understanding of the development of young children, ages four to nine years, with and without exceptionalities. Students will be introduced to and apply informal and formal assessment to be used in decision making and educational planning and delivery. Prerequisites: IECE 320, IECE 321 and IECE 322. Corequisites: IECE 421 and IECE 422.

IECE 421. Practicum in Development of the Young Child. 1 credit.
This practicum is designed to support IECE 420 and IECE 421, by giving students experience in a preschool classroom. Students will observe young children, collect data, assist classroom teachers, and interact appropriately with the individuals within the learning environment. Students will analyze the preschool environments for access by all young children. Prerequisites: IECE 300, IECE 301, IECE 320 and IECE 322. Corequisites: IECE 420 and IECE 422.

IECE 422. Teaching Young Children. 3 credits.
This course explores, analyzes, and evaluates curriculum and methodology related to the design and management of a nurturing, supportive, and challenging learning environment for children ages 3 - 8 years. Emphasis is on the physical environment, design and selection of curricular components, the role of play in the curriculum, skills for professional intervention and interaction, and use of technology to facilitate young children’s learning. Prerequisites: IECE 320, IECE 321 and IECE 322. Corequisites: IECE 420 and IECE 421.
