A few things to remember:

❖ Storify lacks creative control. You are stuck with the storytelling framework. However, it’s extremely user-friendly. Its drag and drop features will have you creating stories in no time.

Created by James Madison University’s Digital Communication Consulting. www.jmu.edu/digicomm
❖ You have to connect to a social media account in order to search for items on Twitter, Facebook, Instagram, etc.

❖ You can only add content in from social media or other external sources. For example, you can’t upload a photo from your computer. If you have that photo on Instagram or Flickr, though, you can pull it from there instead.

❖ There are plenty of stories you can browse through for inspiration. This allows for you to think about various ways in making your own unique!

❖ Your options for content are endless: photos, videos, tweets, news articles - really anything that can be found on the Internet! Don’t see the icon you are looking for? Click the link icon!

❖ Storify saves automatically, so no need to worry about losing your content!

❖ Storify has a tool to make it easy to keep track of content that interests you. Click "tools" at the bottom of the page on Storify and install bookmarklet to your Bookmarks Bar. When you start Storifying your searches with the Bookmarklet tool, these will be found under the Saved Elements option.

![Saved Elements]

Happy Creating!

If you get stuck at any point, sign up for a one-on-one consultation with one of our talented peer tutors!

Created by James Madison University’s Digital Communication Consulting. www.jmu.edu/digicomm