The Madison Vision Graduate Assistantship for the Advancement of Kosovo
Supplemental Application

This scholarship program provides financial support to citizens of Kosovo to pursue master’s and doctoral degrees at James Madison University (JMU) in Harrisonburg, Virginia, USA. Students may pursue any area of study offered at JMU. Any student receiving this assistantship must plan to return to Kosovo after completing the graduate program to use his or her new knowledge and skills to benefit Kosovo. The supplemental application is your opportunity to describe to the committee how earning an advanced degree at JMU will prepare you to positively influence the development of the Republic of Kosovo in the future.

How to Apply:

Step 1:
Submit an application to any JMU Graduate Program before the application deadline. Each program has a different deadline. Please read about requirements on the website at:

jmu.edu/grad/programs/all-programs/index-requirements.shtml

Step 2:
Fill in the blanks below and scan and return this page with your essay (see Step 3)

Full Name: ____________________________________________

Date you did or will submit your JMU application: ______________________________

JMU Program you will or have applied to: ______________________________________

Step 3:
Write your essay answering the question below. Please be specific, but limit your response to 2-3 typed pages.

We would like to understand how your graduate experience could positively influence the development of the Republic of Kosovo. How will the knowledge, experience, and expertise you hope to gain from the program of study you plan to pursue at JMU may help you to address issues that impact individuals and communities in Kosovo?
Describe your prior educational and professional experience, as well as anticipated professional role, if known.

Step 4:
Attach PDF files of your essay along with this form to grad@jmu.edu no later than 1 February 2020. Please type Kosovo Application in the subject line of your e-mail.
