3) Attend University Career Fairs every semester

- Career fairs are the best settings for all students (across all majors and class years) to practice introducing themselves, their backgrounds, and skills
- With practice, students will be more comfortable and effective with networking
- At each career fair, spend 30 minutes talking to 5 organizations
- To view info about career fairs at JMU, scan QR code or visit jmu.edu/career/careerfairs

4) Connect classes to potential career paths

- Coursework is a student's best asset for any internships, jobs, or graduate programs they seek
- To highlight coursework, students must articulate the knowledge, skills, or perspectives they gain from specific courses and relate it to their career ideas
- To learn more about career options for each major at JMU, check out our "Career Guide" by scanning the QR code

5) Pursue internships, work-related, and volunteer experiences

- These experiences allow students to apply academic knowledge, try out occupations, and develop a professional network - these experiences will improve students' candidacy for whichever career paths they pursue
- Handshake is a great place to start your internship search
