

"I like the fact that the CFI is faculty-driven and not separated by the two sides of campus. The entire campus can participate together, so you can see how faculty members on the other side think, which may be different from the way you do. The CFI generates discussions and provides resources you can't get elsewhere."

Iona Black
College of Science and Mathematics