

Critical Mentoring: Engaging Diverse Student Participation in Research January Institute Application Preview

Thursday, January 9, 2020 from 9:00 AM until 4:00 PM in Rose Library room 3311. Lunch provided.

- Name
- Eid/email
- College
- Department
- Describe why you want to participate in this specific institute, Critical Mentoring: Engaging Diverse Student Participation in Research. (100 words maximum)
- Describe your experiences mentoring students in your field/area of research. Please identify what your field of research is. (100 words maximum)
- Do you primarily work with undergraduate students, graduate students, or both? Explain
- Describe your experiences working with historically underrepresented minorities? (100 words)
- How do you plan to share what you learn with your JMU campus colleagues? (100 words)
- In line with the outcomes and description of the Institute, describe what topics you would like to see explored in this Institute? (100 words maximum)
- The CFI, and other campus partners, contribute significant monies and resources to this Institute. In addition, more faculty than can be accepted will likely apply to this Institute. If you are accepted to the Institute, do you fully commit to being present all day, Thursday, January 9? Yes or no.