What is a good time line for taking classes

What is the steps to take to get a masters? What master degrees are being offered? Am I able to do a concentration, like math?

At this point, who is the best person for me to talk to, regarding classes?

I am excited that I am able to graduate 2021 spring with my license! I would love to know if any other students have also switched, so I could connect with them. Best wishes!

I still am unsure how the honors capstone will fit with my required education classes. I am also still confused about programming for the elementary education major and how the masters will work.

XXXX is very unclear and does not tell us exactly what we need to take and when to take them. I had to contact someone in the Education department separately because my advisor could not help me at all.

Hopefully there will be a 5 year masters for Elementary education by the time I graduate from the 4 year.

Is it possible with the new major to graduate a semester early?

Study abroad options Honors and elem ed

Can we get clarifications on the Master's program options for ELEM. It is unfair for us when we were told we would have a +1 option at the beginning of the year and now we are being told that we cannot have this opportunity.

Are we supposed to have an advisor from the college of Ed? I received an email that I wouldn't be assigned one until March. Thank you!

I just want to thank Dr Harris, she has helped me through so much and supported me and it is very appreciated

My program planning sheet has been very helpful. I think having those for every major would be fantastic, if they don't already have them.

I would appreciate an official statement about what the recommended class course sequence is so that we can start planning ahead instead of having to piece it together semester by semester.
