

National Association for Multicultural Education (NAME)

NAME is the premier national organization for educators interested in promoting cultural competence, equity, and social justice through multicultural education.

According to its website, NAME has 3 main objectives:

- 1) to provide opportunities for learning in order to advance multicultural education, equity and social justice;
- 2) to proactively reframe public debate and impact current and emerging policies in ways that advance social, political, economic and educational equity through advocacy, position papers, policy statements and other strategies; and
- 3) to provide the pre-eminent digital clearinghouse for resources about educational equity and social justice (Retrieved from http://www.nameorg.org/about_name.php).

NAME membership provides professionals with opportunities to stay abreast of current issues in the field of diversity and multicultural education studies. Some membership benefits include a subscription to the quarterly journal Multicultural Perspectives, the NAME newsletter published 3 times a year, a subscription to NAME-MCE List Serv, and reduced registration fee for the annual conference. Student membership is $40.

For more information visit the NAME website: <http://www.nameorg.org> and click on Membership.
