

Dr. Sean Jackson, Managing Director Government & Public Sector Ernst & Young

Sean Jackson is a leader in EY's national education practice where he focuses on providing insights and guidance to senior executives in higher education. Prior to joining EY, Dr. Jackson led a successful 30-month/$60m project to transform and automate the HR and payroll functions at the University of Virginia. He and his team worked with academic and healthcare leaders to develop the strategy, execute the project, and stabilize operations after launch.

Dr. Jackson served as CIO at the University of Virginia School of Medicine and University Physicians Group where he and his team supported basic science and clinical research, undergraduate and graduate medical education, physician billing, call center, primary care practice management, and practice acquisition and divestitures. In his role, he collaborated with faculty and staff to develop and implement two five-year strategic plans that included the launch of the school's research high performance computing capability.