

SA Raymond Wong - SA Wong has been with the Office of Export Enforcement's Washington Field Office (OEE/WFO) since August of 2020. SA Wong is Forward Assigned to Homeland Security Investigations' Counterproliferation Investigations Taskforce for the Mid-Atlantic. From 2018 to 2020, SA Wong was a Senior Special Agent with the U.S. Department of Homeland Security Headquarters' Special Investigations Branch, focused on Insider Threat and National Security Investigations. From 2015 to 2020, SA Wong was a Special Agent with the U.S. Department of Labor, Division of Protective Operations' Protective Intelligence Investigations. And from 2012 to 2015, SA Wong was a Special Agent with the U.S. Department of State's Diplomatic Security Service, where he served at the WFO and the Secretary of State's Protection Division. Prior to his time in federal law enforcement, SA Wong served on active duty in the U.S. Marine Corps as an Intelligence Officer and continues his service in the U.S. Marine Corps Reserves as an Adjunct Professor at the National Intelligence University. SA Wong earned a Bachelor of Engineering in Electrical Engineering from Stony Brook University, Master of Arts in Public Policy and Administration from Northwestern University, and a Master of Science and Technology Intelligence in Cyber Intelligence and Data Analytics. SA Wong is a Certified Fraud Examiner and a Cyber Crimes Investigator.