Plays, Games, and other Events

There are so many things to do on campus once the semester starts. While a few events are free, such as arboretum events and planetarium shows, there are many events that happen on campus which need tickets. Each of JMU's teams play home and away games throughout the year and any sports fan has the opportunity to see any or all of the games in each season. To purchase tickets for any sporting event go online at <http://jmusports.com/>, these can be printed out ahead of time or picked up at the ticket office. There are multiple ticket packages available if you wish to purchase more than 20 tickets. Note: if you are thinking about buying tickets for Family Weekend or Homecoming do so quickly. Tickets for those events are known to sell out quickly.

Other fun events for the whole family can be found at the Forbes Center for Performing Arts. The different variety of shows include dance, music, theatre, and visual arts. These events vary from concerts and plays performed by JMU students to visiting performers on National or International tours. Tickets for these events can be purchased either online at <https://www.jmu.edu/forbescenter/> or in person at the Forbes box office. Note: check the pricing for each event, occasionally there will be a discounted rate for JMU Faculty and Staff.
