

The Madison Vision Graduate Assistantship for the Advancement of Kosovo

Supplemental Application

This scholarship program provides financial support to citizens of Kosovo to pursue master's and doctoral degrees at James Madison University (JMU) in Harrisonburg, Virginia, USA. Students receiving this assistantship must plan to return to Kosovo after completing the graduate program to use his or her new knowledge and skills to benefit Kosovo. The supplemental application is your opportunity to describe to the scholarship-selection committee how earning an advanced degree at JMU will prepare you to positively influence the development of the Republic of Kosovo in the future.

How to Apply:

Step 1:

Submit an application to any JMU Graduate Program before the application deadline. Each program has a different deadline. Please read about requirements on the website at:

<https://jmu.edu/grad/programs/all-programs/index-requirements.shtml>

Step 2:

Fill in the blanks below and return this page with your essay (see Step 3)

Full Name: _____

Date you submitted (or will submit) your program admission application: _____

Name of JMU graduate program to which you have applied:

Step 3:

Write your essay answering the question below. Please be specific, but limit your response to 2-3 typed pages.

We would like to understand how your graduate experience could positively influence the development of the Republic of Kosovo. How will the knowledge, experience, and expertise you hope to gain from your JMU graduate experience help you to address issues that impact individuals and communities in Kosovo? In your essay please describe your prior educational and professional experience, as well as your future plans, if known.

Step 4:

Submit this form and your essay to grad@jmu.edu no later than 1 February 2022. Please type Kosovo Application in the subject line of your e-mail.