What is JMURJ?

- A student-run, peer-reviewed, undergraduate academic journal
- We promote, publish, and share the excellent research and scholarship by undergraduate students in all disciplines

Review Process

- The JMURJ Editorial Board screens all submissions
- If selected, JMU faculty volunteers review the work with a discipline-specific eye
- Once accepted by faculty, the submissions undergo copyediting and move towards publication

Submission Deadline

- Accept and publish on a rolling basis
- Review process begins as soon as we receive your submission

Submit Your Work

Text-based Submissions

- JMURJ accepts submissions between 2,000 and 6,000 words
- Submissions should be accessible to a diverse academic audience
- You can submit up to 1 year after graduating

Media-based Submissions

- JMURJ accepts stand-alone pieces of digital scholarship (i.e., traditional research and scholarship presented in digital form)
- We also welcome work that incorporates film, audio, images, artwork, and other media, such as a short documentary or recorded presentation
- Some multi-media submissions require a brief research statement

Join Our Team

- JMURJ HON300 is offered as a seminar and 1, 2, or 3-credit practicum
- JMURJ Editorial Board members don't have to be Honors students. All JMU students in all disciplines are welcome

Editing Team

- Correspond with authors and faculty reviewers
- Comprehensively edit submissions

Marketing/Outreach Team

- Network with university stakeholders
- Develop publicity initiatives
- Create funding opportunities

Design Team

- Design layouts with the Adobe Creative Suite
- Create graphics and design logos for publication
