

Dad works tirelessly Zoom call after Zoom call to keep in contact with his coworkers.

Team Rush

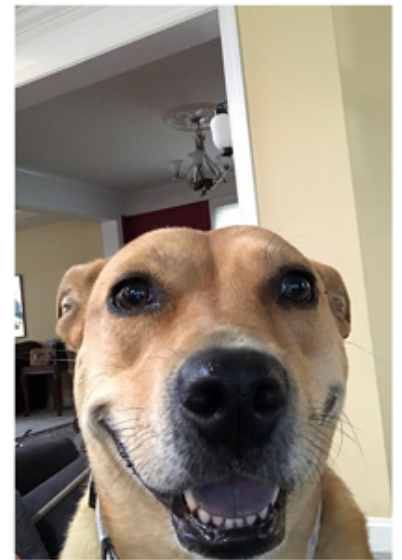

PHOTO ESSAY BY:
Ryan Rush

As team Rush prepares for a continued quarantine, the family continues to stay motivated as well as productive. Between playing video games, doing online homework and working out, every member of the family continues to push through this difficult time.

For some of us this time in isolation has brought the best out of us allowing for some of us to catch up on things we have been meaning to do; for others it has been a time to catch up on sleep. Regardless of how we spend our time in quarantine, I am happy that we have had the chance to spend it together as a family.

Aidan works on his online school work assigned by his teachers. Logan plays NBA 2K20 on Xbox with all of his friends who are also stuck at home. Ryan becomes addicted to playing Animal Crossing on his Nintendo Switch while couped up in the house. Ryan works out in the in-home gym as a way to pass the time.

Cali the dog shows her excitement of everyone being home for the quarantine.