

Ryan Bailey, a JMU Student, shown making his fifth bowl of cereal of the day.

AN INSIDERS LOOK INTO QUARANTINE

PHOTO ESSAY BY:

ELEFThERIA GIANNOPOULOS

Eleftheria Giannopoulos, a student at James Madison University, has spent most of her time during quarantine in Stafford, VA. For a week, she was fortunate enough to self-isolate with her significant other and they were able to enjoy a few days of quarantine with each other. Throughout that week, Eleftheria practiced her photography skills by taking photographs of Ryan Bailey in his usual day to day activities as well as using self timer to photograph herself and activities that they have done together during this time.

Above: Ryan Bailey is shown here playing video games to pass the time. Clockwise from left: Ryan Bailey modeled for Eletheria on the JMU Campus Eleftheria Giannopoulos and Ryan Bailey are photographed doing homework and enjoying television. In the bottom middle, Eleftheria photographed paint, as they had decided to go out of their normal activities and paint together.

Eleftheria Giannopoulos shown above practicing self-timer with her camera and taking portraits inside her home.