

(Left) A puzzle I completed with my family of a cat in a hammock. (Middle) A Diet Coke can I drank at 10PM. (Right) A book I was reading for an advertising class describing how to post to instagram.

BORED IN THE HOUSE

PHOTO ESSAY BY: JORDAN VONDERHARR

My quarantine experience has been very boring. I started out quarantine by having the flu. I have spent most of my time relaxing with my family and my cats. We've passed our time with puzzles and board games. I have also done a lot of homework while in quarantine. Adjusting to online classes has been a weird experience. I've eaten a lot of cereal and meals at odd times. Since I stay up to late, Diet Coke is the only thing keeping me awake. The most eventful thing to happen was that I cut my dad's hair! It was terrifying.

(Above) I cut my dad's hair which had grown out a lot this was right after I finished. (Left) My cat Reesie is my quarantine buddy! She keeps me company and helps me manage stress. (Right) Cheerios are my meal of choice! I poured this bowl going to sleep.

