

Cooking breakfast every morning adds consistency and schedule to Robert's day.

Guitar has been a great form of escape and expression for Robert during these times.

Both drawing and painting help him to pass the time, away from a screen or the couch.

Home: Until Further Notice

PHOTO ESSAY BY: ROBERT GRADY

Covid-19 has impacted many students around the globe including James Madison University Junior, Robert Grady. Quarantined away from his family and only having his roommates to interact with, he must get creative to pass the time. Picking up new hobbies and keeping busy are helping him through life being put on pause with no end in sight.

Above: Listening to records, old and new, keeps Robert company as he does his school work.

Below: Robert repairing old jeans for friends to pass the time.

Above: Roommates playing Scrabble.