

INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS MAJOR REQUIREMENTS

Students may choose one of four concentrations: COMPARATIVE STUDY; FOREIGN POLICY AND GLOBAL GOVERNANCE; GLOBAL HUMAN DEVELOPMENT; or INTERNATIONAL CONFLICT AND SECURITY. The International Affairs major requires that all students complete a common core. Students should be aware that it is not always possible to offer courses on their regular rotation and that new courses may be added and existing ones deleted. Therefore, key requirements should not be left until just before graduation. Any course substitutions must be approved by the International Affairs Coordinator in consultation with other faculty members.

B.A. DEGREE REQUIREMENTS:

- Philosophy requirement: one 3-credit philosophy course. If students have taken a GPHIL course to meet their General Education requirements, they must take an additional course to meet the B.A. degree philosophy requirement.
- Language requirement: Three years of foreign language appropriate to course of study in the major. Students majoring in international affairs who use proficiency in a native language to meet the INTA language requirement must make the following substitutions for the two 300-level foreign language courses: GAMST 200 AND one of the following courses: GHIST 225, GENG 247, or GENG 248. Such students who have a diploma from a U.S. high school may take 6 credits of any foreign language, at any level, instead of the above two courses. These courses must focus on grammar, oral and written communication; they cannot be literature, cinema or civilization courses.

GLOBAL HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CONCENTRATION

The courses in the Global Human Development concentration are grouped under five headings: core courses, political dynamics, historical patterns, sociopolitical dynamics, and a depth component. Students in this track must complete the requirements for all five headings.

I. CORE COURSES:

The following courses must be completed by all students in the international affairs major (32 credits).

DISCIPLINE	COURSE	TITLE
Political Science	POSC 230 POSC 240	International Relations Comparative Politics
Economics	GECON 200 ECON 201 ECON 270 ¹	Introduction to Macroeconomics Principles of Economics (Micro) International Economics

Foreign Language	FL 300 ⁴ FL 320 ⁴	Grammar and Communication Oral and Written Communication

² Students should note that MATH 220 is a prerequisite for INTA 295. If taken in the summer from an INTA faculty member, POSC 295 will count as INTA 295.

³ This course fulfills the College of Arts and Letters writing intensive requirement. Prerequisite: completion of all courses in the core requirement of the major and senior standing.

⁴ Students must be proficient at the third year-level of a foreign language. In most languages this will require the completion of courses numbered 300 and 320. Some languages may not use this course numbering—in this instance students must take two 300-level courses that focus on grammar, oral and written communication. The second 300-level course may not be a literature, cinema or civilization course. Some languages cannot be completed through the 300-level at JMU. Students studying these languages may have to complete course work during the summer or abroad at a specialized language program. Students should consult with the Department of Foreign Languages, Literatures, and Cultures on this point. Students' foreign language must be appropriate for their track. French is acceptable for the Africa track and the Middle East track.

STUDY ABROAD and WASHINGTON SEMESTER: Many of the courses available to students through JMU's Studies Abroad program and the Washington Semester program—for example, POSC 371S, POSC 371L, and POSC 371F—can be used to fulfill regional requirements in the International Affairs major. Students planning to go abroad should keep this in mind in working out their schedules and must consult with the INTA coordinator for course approvals and substitutions.
