

PHYSICAL THERAPY CLINICS NEAR JMU'S CAMPUS

Physical Therapy (PT) is a treatment that helps restore or improve physical function and movement that has been impaired by an injury, disease, or disability. JMU/UREC does not offer Physical Therapy services, but there are numerous providers in the area and options for you to consider in the next step of caring for your injury.

The following PT Clinics are all located within 2 miles of campus. This list is subject to change. JMU/UREC does not endorse any physical therapy clinic and is not responsible for any fees associated with these clinics.

It is important to note that not all PT Clinics accept insurance. If insurance coverage is important to you, this is something you should ask the clinic before making your first appointment. You will want to know the name of your insurance provider and learn the coverage that you have for physical therapy as this can vary between insurance programs.
