Associate your SSO account with a CITI Program account

Please choose an option:

○ I already have a CITI Program account.
○ I don't have a CITI Program account and I need to create one.

If you already have an established CITI account, the JMU login will take you directly to the Main Menu page.

Note: If you did not use your JMU e-ID previously, the system may not be able to find your account. You will need to login with your current CITI Program username and password (click on the first login tab) and update your registration information under "Update Institutional Profile."

For new users, you will see the following screen:

Create a new CITI Program account

By clicking the button below, you will create a new CITI Program account.

Create A New CITI Program Account

New users will need to update their institutional profile:

Your SSO Registration

Greetings   .

You are receiving this email because an account was created at the Collaborative Institutional Training Initiative (CITI Program) website using Single Sign-On (SSO) access from the James Madison University.

New accounts are created the first time you login to the CITI Program using Single Sign-On (SSO) credentials. This email is being sent to the primary email address that was specified as part of that account creation.

- Your primary email address: @jmu.edu
- Your password for SSO access is the same one you regularly use at the James Madison University.

While the following information is not needed for your SSO login, it may help identify your account should you need to contact us.

- Your CITI Program username:
- Your CITI Program member ID:
